

Striving to be the preferred auction company in South Africa based on trust and integrity

STONEHENGE AUCTIONS

Your cornerstone in property

About us

Stonehenge Auctions is made up of a highly skilled team of individuals with extensive knowledge in the property development, investment and structured finance, accounting, valuations, banking, sales and marketing fields. Its directors have a combined 50 years of banking, property finance and construction experience.

With its key objective the seamless conclusion of property transactions that benefit both buyer and seller, Stonehenge Auctions conducts multi-property off-site auctions as well as on-site auctions. Stonehenge Auction's clients are assured of personal attention with an experienced property and auction expert.

Trust and integrity is central to Stonehenge Auctions' value system and underpins its foundation. As such, the company aims to create a new benchmark for excellence in the auction arena and subscribes to the high ethical standards of the industry. Stonehenge Auctions adheres to a strict code of conduct established by the industry governing bodies and is registered with the Estate Agency Affairs Board and the South African Institute of Auctioneers.

Benefits of auctions

Auctions provide leverage to a network of high value buyers and sellers in the local property market. Stonehenge Auctions recently auctioned a R65-million residential property, an indication that many high value property owners prefer auctions over any other sale method.

The benefits of auctions include:

- A reduction in marketing cycle
- A reduction in costs of ownership
- Targeting qualified buyers
- Negotiations between sellers and buyers are clearly defined
- There are predetermined terms and conditions of sale
- Auctions truly achieve fair market value
